Blackdog Resources Ltd. Announces Successful Casing of Horizontal Cardium Light Oil at Buck Lake, Alberta

Blackdog Resources Ltd. ("Blackdog" or "the Company") is pleased to announce that it has successfully cased its horizontal cardium light oil well at Buck Lake, Alberta (the "Buck Lake Well"). The decision to case the Buck Lake Well was made after a review by the Company of the logs and samples.

Blackdog has a 15% working interest ("W.I.") in the Buck Lake Well subject to a 12% non convertible gross overriding royalty on the well and the entire three-quarter section of land the Buck Lake Well is situated on. Management of the Company believes that a successful well could lead to additional drilling locations.

The operator of the Buck Lake Well is currently in the process of installing a tank battery with oil that will be used for the fracture stimulation program that is scheduled to commence in the next 7-10 days, subject to availability of oil field services in the area. Should the testing of the well prove commercial, the tie-in process for a pipeline is only 400 metres from the drilling location, and management of Blackdog expects to have the well online and producing before the end of 2011.

Blackdog Resources Ltd. is a junior oil and gas company focused on the exploration and development of light oil properties in South East Saskatchewan and Alberta. The Company currently has 26,786,249 common shares outstanding.
